Nights of Lights Last Weekend

The ten week event will end this weekend, Sunday, January 31. City ordinance states that all holiday lights must be turned off after that date. Please see the attached news release by clicking here.

COSA Web Site Has New Stories

There are two new stories on the City of St. Augustine Web site. The first story is on the St. Augustine Fire Department and their efforts to assist with the fundraising for the victims of Haiti. The second is about the city's efforts to make all city sidewalks both ADA compliant with a cost saving to its taxpayers. To read the stories, click here.

Last week's storms produced 70 tons of yard waste which was picked up this week by the Division of Solid Waste, Public Works Dept.

Menendez Noche de Gala

Celebrating the 491st Birthday of don Pedro Menéndez de Avilés Saturday, February 27. To read the story and details on the COSA Web site, click here.

Bridge of Lions Channel Restrictions and Closures

Public Information Officer for the Bridge of Lions Project Laurie Sanderson has issued the channel restrictions and closures for February. To view the document, click here. The restored Bridge of Lions opening date is expected to be between mid-February and early March. For more information on the Bridge of Lions, click here.

West King St.

Karen Pan, St. Johns County Public Affairs Specialist, states that the West King St. project is expected to be completed within the next month. A news release will be issued by St. Johns County when the opening date is confirmed.

COSA Web Site

Like most government Web sites, the COSA site is organized by 'who's asking'---is the person a resident, business or visitor or any one of the three, who wants a quick answer to a quick question?

Useful information is readily available on the front page for the weekly city calendar, upcoming meetings, Planning and Building, Public Works and General Services forms and documents and the city code.

The site is updated regularly, offering readers timely stories of interest to the City of St. Augustine.
